Adapting Metaliteracy OER to Multimodal Teaching and Learning Practices

This workshop will invite participants to adapt metaliteracy OER to multimodal teaching and learning practices. This may involve adapting these materials to specific assignments, courses in various modes, and/or distinct instructional sessions. Examples of metaliteracy OER such as interactive diagrams, digital badging content, and dynamic videos will be provided for participants to apply to their own settings. Participants will also have the option to edit and repurpose these materials or envision their own based on the application of the metaliteracy goals and learning objectives.
